How the Life Systems Personal Emergency Response System Works...

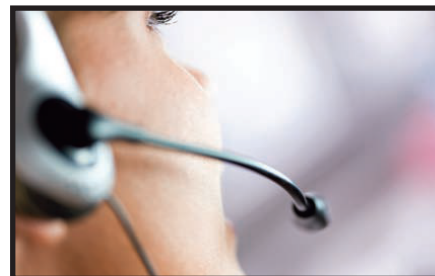

◆ Just press the button

The console, designed for tabletop use and for bedside placement, features an emergency button. Press either the wearable personal transmitter or console button to receive assistance.

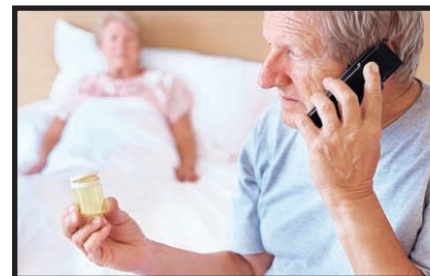

◆ Get immediate contact

The console receives your signal and immediately and automatically places a call to the Emergency Monitoring Center.

◆ Say what you need

A trained professional at the Emergency Monitoring Center talks directly to you to assess the help you need, and will stay on the line until assistance arrives.

◆ Get the help you specify

Depending on your situation, the Emergency Monitoring Center professional will call the designated person you specify, whether a family member, friend or neighbor, or emergency personnel.
